

Year 4 News

20th December 2024

What we've been learning recently

English – In English, Year 4 have been debating the question “Should zoos be banned?” The children considered the arguments for and against and used their Oracy skills to hold a debate, demonstrating how to agreeably disagree with each other! They then turned to their books to write a convincing article on the topic.

Maths – Year 4 have rounded off their maths learning this term with work on perimeter. They have impressed their teachers with their approach to the reasoning and problem-solving elements in this topic.

Wider Curriculum – Science has been in the spotlight this week as the Year 4s have been putting their work on electricity into practice, designing and planning their own investigation question. They have also finished off their Geography topic on rainforests by designing beautiful, informative leaflets all about deforestation.

Over the next fortnight we will be...

We hope you all stay safe over the Christmas and enjoy celebrating with those closest to you. See you in the New Year!
