What we've been learning recently

English – Over the past two weeks, the children have been hard at work crafting their non-chronological reports inspired by the text Holes. They have meticulously edited, refined, and redrafted their writing before presenting their final pieces in their Star Writer books. Following this, we embarked on an exciting new journey into biographies, exploring the remarkable work of Charles Darwin.

Maths – In Maths, the children have now completed their learning journey through algebra. With plenty of practice during our morning work, they successfully combined White Rose steps to deepen their understanding. They have explored expressions, inputs and outputs, problem-solving, and identifying mathematical pathways. Next, we move on to decimals!

Wider Curriculum – During science lessons, the children have continued their exploration of evolution and inheritance. They have studied the process of natural selection, examined fossils to understand their role in the study of evolution, and learned about the life and work of Charles Darwin, culminating in a report on his discoveries. Next, we will be diving into the fascinating world of living things and their habitats!

Over the next fortnight we will be...

- Continue adding to our beautiful Darwin journals, we are so proud of them already!
- Bikeability – Bikeability will continue next week. Please keep an eye on your emails for any updates regarding group changes or days. With the unpredictable weather, we've had to make a few adjustments already, and we appreciate your patience and understanding. Thank you!
